Tasting Notes

The wine opens with impressions of orange peel, baking spice, cracked black pepper, and molasses. On the pallet, the spice components take center stage with a complex blend of black pepper, fennel, and cinnamon that are framed by notes of plum. Big, rich tannins give the wine body and structure while at the same time are lush enough to soften the finish.

Winemaker's Production Notes

With Tannat being such a bold yet elegant wine, the oak selected for aging is a low-impact style of American oak, used to elevate complexity without contributing excessive tannin or wood flavors.
